before the birth of Christ. We likewise read 1 Sam. 13 c. 5 v. that the Philistines brought thirty thousand chariots into the field against Saul; so that chariots were in use one thousand and ninety-five years before Christ. About the same time Architecture was brought into Europe; and, one thousand and thirty years before Christ, Ammon built long and tall ships with sails on the Red Sea and the Mediterranean. About ninety years after, the ship Argo was built; which was the first Greek vessel that ventured to pass through the sea, by help of sails, without sight of land, being guided only by the stars. Daedalus also, who lived nine hundred and eighty years before Christ, made sails for ships, and invented several sorts of tools for carpenters and joiners to work with. He also made several moving statues, which could walk or run of themselves. And about eight hundred years before Christ, we find in second of Chronicles 26 c. 9 10 and 15 verses, that Uzziah made, in Jerusalem, engines invented by cunning men, to be on the towers and upon the bulwarks, to shoot arrows and great stones withal. Corn mills were early invented, for we read in Deuteronomy 24 c. 6 v. that it was not lawful
