

I would add that I design shortly to publish, as a sequel to what precedes, should circumstances seem to warrant it, a set of working plans for bridges of different lengths and descriptions, both of wood and iron, with details, specifications, and general remarks. S. WHIPPLE.