A. Thin shaly and thick dolomitic limestones of the Tomstown formation. Along Central of New Jersey Railroad West Bethlehem. The blackened lenses are black flint segregations.

B. Layer of dolomite between two low-magnesian beds has been squeezed into a string of nodular-like masses of which one is shown. The weak low-magnesian beds by flowage wrap around the nodules. Beekmantown formation, one mile east of Guthsville.