impossible to recall and give credit to these individual contributions, much as he should like to do so.

For assistance in the field, the writer particularly desires to thank his former students, J. Osborn Fuller, Philip B. Myers, Albert J. Getz, and Clayton L. Rolson.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge specifically the assistance freely given by the officials of the Lehigh Portland Cement Co., the Copley Cement Manufacturing Co., the Giant Portland Cement Co., the Whitehall Cement Manufacturing Co., and the New Jersey Zinc Co. in supplying data concerning their operations and properties. Mr. M. B. Biery has kindly furnished records of many wells. The proprietors of the Call-Chronicle newspapers have supplied a number of excellent photographs for illustration. These and many others have made it possible to prepare this volume.

The collection of data and the preparation for publication has afforded much pleasure to the writer. If this report proves to be of interest or value to those for whom it is written, the writer will feel well repaid for his efforts.

Lehigh University,
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania,
April 18, 1941.

Benjamin L. Miller