A. Splitting the slate. Each piece is split in half until the required thinness is obtained.

B. Trimming the slate. A steel blade operated by foot shears shingles to size.

C. Punching nail holes. On order specifying the overlap, two holes are punched in the shingles.